

SPRING 1 2025

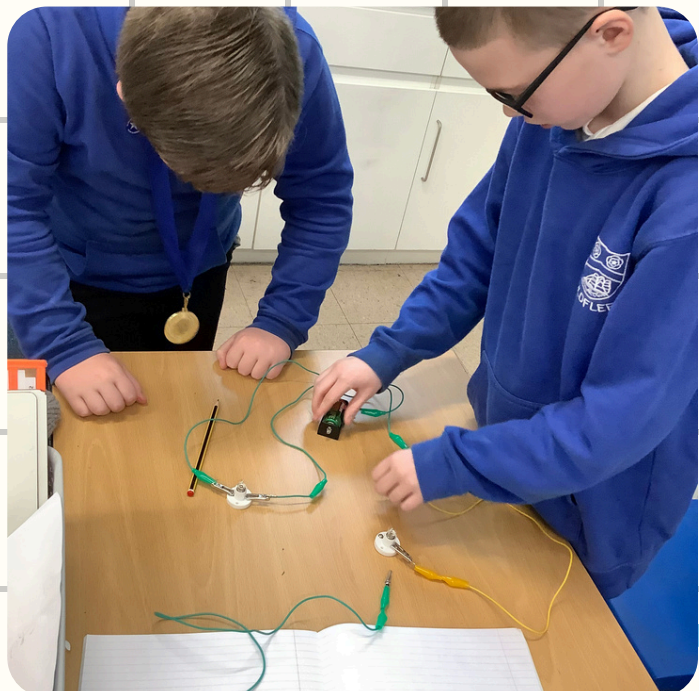

In maths we began this half-term looking at ratio, making links to fractions. We have also used the 4 operations for decimals.

This half-term we have written diary entries, setting descriptions and non-chronological reports from a variety of texts and media.

We have read a variety of fiction and non-fiction texts, discussing vocabulary and making inferences using evidence to justify our answers.

In science, we have constructed circuits; making predictions and carrying out investigations.

In history, we are learning about the Transatlantic Slave Trade and the impact on countries involved. We will continue our learning next half-term.
